

St. Ambrose Funeral Liturgy 2026

Music Selection

As a parish family, we want to begin by offering our condolences on the loss of your loved one. The Mass follows the Catholic rite of burial and the parish takes the selection for the music in the funeral liturgy very seriously. Music should be sacred and reflect the idea of resurrection and hope.

You may have in mind some specific songs which may or may not be appropriate during the Mass. Below are suggestions for various points during the Mass. There are many songs not listed that may also be appropriate. Kim Boatman is the St. Ambrose funeral liturgy coordinator. She can assist you in choosing your music. Darren Modde is the music director and he has the final decision on what songs are appropriate to play/sing. He will assign a parish cantor to lead the congregation in prayer and song. A family may choose to hire their own cantor if this person has experience singing for Catholic funeral liturgies or is well versed in Catholic music repertoire.

Some music is not appropriate for a funeral Mass. For example, O Danny Boy is a wonderful song, but because it does not have sacred words, it is not appropriate for a Catholic Mass. The sacred and communal nature of our Catholic funeral Mass requires careful planning in the selection of music. This planning will ensure the ability of all those gathered to actively participate in the celebration. Because of the sacredness of the Mass, secular instrumental or vocal music, or the use of recorded music of any kind may not be used.

The entrance, Communion, and recessional hymns should be selections that the congregation should be encouraged to sing. Solos are more appropriate during offertory, or as a Communion meditation.

Your selections should include the following:

Entrance

Responsorial Psalm (text only)

Offertory

Communion

Final Commendation

Recessional
